AND 0021

Instructor: Drew D. Brown, Ph.D.
Phone: 352-392-5724
Email: brown.ad@ufl.edu
Office: 1012 Turlington Hall
Office hours: Tuesday 2pm-3pm

Course Description:

The course is a survey of the discipline of Africana Studies that examines its history and origins, interdisciplinary concerns and research in the following areas: history, religion, social organization, economics, politics, creative production, psychology.

Furthermore, this is an African American Studies course. Therefore, it will explore how race and ethnicity operate. We will define central ideas such as whiteness, race, ethnicity, class and so on. In this course, we will use various methodological frameworks to view history and review various theoretical approaches of analysis. Additionally, we will examine the historical growth of white supremacy and privilege in sustaining systems of racial and economic inequality.

Course Goals:

In this course, student will be exposed to African American history while enhancing the following:

- Critical thinking skills
- Information literacy
- Ability to examine historical events through an Africana studies framework
- Understanding the context of historical and contemporary issues
- Engagement, both locally and globally, in the issues of our day

Course Objective:

After successfully completing this course students should have a general understanding of the basic theories, theorists, issues, and methods that ground and continue to shape the discipline of Africana Studies.

Required Texts

1. Karenga, Maulana. Introduction to Black Studies, 4th ed. Los Angeles, CA: University of Sankore Press, 2010.

Ground Rules:

1. Arrive to class ON TIME. Persistent lateness will result in a lower grade.
2. Turn your cell phones OFF. If you have an emergency and have to use it, leave the room so that I do not have to request that you do so.
3. Use laptops ONLY for course related activity (i.e. taking notes)
4. All reading assignments are to be completed before attending class.
5. Papers are to be submitted electronically. NO late papers will be accepted.
6. Plagiarism is a serious offense. If you use the work of other authors without giving them credit, you will receive a '0' for the assignment.
7. Some of the material in this course uses slang, profanity, and what some might consider derogatory racial and sexual terminology. If you find such language offensive, please see me.

Assignments:

Students are responsible for all course content and assignments even in their absence. No late assignments will be accepted without a legitimate excuse (based on the UF policy). The semester grade for assignments will be the percentage of total assignment points earned (out of the total points possible).

Readings:

All readings will be listed on Canvas. Depending on current events, there may be additional readings/commentaries/news stories sent via email or posted on Canvas. Each student must have a UF e-mail account in order to receive e-mail announcements sent via Canvas. You are responsible for logging on to Canvas and reading the announcements and obtaining assigned material.

Quizzes: (20%):

The first class of every week, except weeks with tests, there will be 11 (Eleven) quizzes given to ensure that the students are doing the assigned readings and watching the assigned lectures. Each quiz will be five multiple choice questions based on the readings from the previous week. The lowest quiz grade will be dropped at the end of the course.

Because the lowest quiz will be dropped, there will be no make-up for missed quizzes. In the event that assigned readings are not being/have not been completed, the professor will give pop quizzes. The point value will be determined once the decision is made to give a quiz.

Test 1 and Test 2: (25% each):

The Test 1 and Test 2 examinations will cover selected information and consist of fill-in-the-blank, short answer and multiple-choice questions. Students should be prepared to answer questions on a variety of topics covered over the course of the semester. (Test 1: Week 7 and Test 2: Week 15)

Papers: (20%):

A 1000-word typed paper will be assigned and will be assembled from various topics discussed in class as well as assigned course readings. (Paper guidelines will be distributed prior to each paper's due date).

Course Grade Consists of the Following Components Weighted as Follows:

Quizzes (11)	20%
Paper	25%
Group Assignment	15%
Test 1	20%
Test 2	20%
<hr/>
Total	100%

Grading Scale:

Students will be assigned the following letter grade based on the calculation coming from the course assessment section.

A	92 and above	B-	80-81.99	D+	68-69.99
A-	90-91.99	C+	78-79.99	D	62-67.99
B+	88-89.99	C	72-77.99	D-	60-61.99
B	82-87.99	C-	70-71.99	F	59.99 and below

Course Policies:

Students should expect to put a minimum of 6 hours of work per week doing the following: (Reading texts, summarizing texts, outlining major points, understanding perspectives, researching concepts or historical moments that they are unfamiliar with, outlining texts, articles, and notes.)

No predetermined “grade curve” will be applied to quizzes, exams, essays, oral presentations, or the final grade. Your grade will depend upon your own individual effort and performance. I cannot make you study, I cannot do the work for you, but I will be able to tell easily if you did or did not do your work.

Statement of Principles:

1. Faculty are entitled to freedom in the classroom in discussing their subjects, but they should be careful not to introduce into their teaching controversial (or other) matter which has no relation to their subject. The faculty member is responsible, however, for maintaining academic standards in the presentation of course materials.
2. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for the truth.
3. Faculty members in the classroom and in conference should encourage free discussion, inquiry and expression. Student performance should be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.
4. Students should be free to take reasoned exception to the information or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but students are responsible for learning the content of the course of study in which they are enrolled. The validity of academic ideas, theories, arguments, and views should be measured against the relevant academic standards.

5. Students should have protection through orderly grievance procedures against prejudiced or capricious evaluations that are not intellectually relevant to the subject matter under consideration. At the same time, students are responsible for complying with the standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled.

Controversial Subject Matter:

In this class, we will be discussing subject matter that some students may consider controversial. Some students may find some of the films, readings and/or comments in class very challenging. Our purpose in this class is to explore this subject matter deeply and consider multiple perspectives and arguments. Students are expected to listen to the instructor and to one another respectfully, but of course are free to disagree, respectfully, with views expressed in class or in readings. Your grades will by no means be penalized or rewarded if you agree or disagree with anyone's opinion even mine. However, it will depend on your ability to substantiate and support your claims.

Disability Statement:

This course is open to all students who meet the academic requirements for participation. Any student who has a need for accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the instructor privately to discuss the specific situation as soon as possible.

Students Requiring Accommodations: Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

University Honesty Policy:

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Counseling and Wellness Center:

Contact information for the Counseling and Wellness Center: <http://www.counseling.ufl.edu/cwc/Default.aspx>, 392-1575; and the University Police Department: 392-1111 or 9-1-1 for emergencies.

Writing Studio:

The writing studio is committed to helping University of Florida students meet their academic and professional goals by becoming better writers. Visit the writing studio online at
